- 4. SLS-Nagpur also emphasizes developing strong analytical and research skills. It provides extensive training on legal databases and workshops related to research & drafting which help law students in their legal profession. These skills are essential for MUN participants to prepare substantive and well-argued positions on various international issues. Through this participants can gain critical thinking and logical reasoning skills.
- 5. SLS-Nagpur does not only restrict itself to academics and learning but also celebrates joy by conducting various events including cultural fest, DJ night, treasure hunts, and other co-curricular activities. This not only helps in the holistic development of an individual but also provides a platform to showcase their talents and skills.
- 6. SLS-Nagpur provides a platform for participants to showcase their communication skills, writing skills, and research skills in this MUN by learning from fellow delegates and by building their networking.
- 7. Moreover, the SLS-MUN has successfully organised various events in the past with an overwhelming positive response from the crowd.
- 8. The SLS-MUN is an amazing opportunity for the students to grab onto, given its perks, prizes, the experience of being at the SLS-Nagpur campus and a minimal registration fee.

A Model United Nations (MUN) organized by Symbiosis Law School, Nagpur (SLSN) can offer several advantages compared to other institutions. Here are a few reasons why students should participate in MUN organized by SLS-Nagpur:

- 1. SLS-Nagpur has faculty members who specialize in International Law, Corporate Law, Criminal law, and other legal areas and has always made sure that knowledge and quality education are provided before anything else. Through this participants can gain valuable insights from legal professionals who can mentor and guide them throughout the process.
- 2. SLS-Nagpur offers courses and programs related to International law, diplomacy, and global governance. This can help participants approach the MUN with a broader perspective, considering legal principles and international conventions.
- 3. SLS-Nagpur organized debates, moots, and other activities that not only help students academically but also nurture their overall holistic development. Through this delegates will benefit largely from the practical experience and communication with the law students.

WHY OPT FOR SLS-MUN AND HOW IT STANDS AS A BETTER CHOICE?

Symbiosis Law School, Nagpur is renowned for its commitment to legal excellence. This commitment naturally extends to the MUN, ensuring a solid grounding in legal principles and international law.

Spread over the sprawling 75 acres of beautifully landscaped area, the Symbiosis Law School, Nagpur campus is amongst the most distinguished ones in India. It has spacious and well-furnished air-conditioned classrooms with necessary instructional aids for effective communication. With state-of-the-art facilities and upgraded infrastructure Symbiosis Law School, Nagpur is one of the best Law Schools in the country matching international standards.

COMMITTEES AND AGENDAS

THE AGENDA FOR THE UNSC IS:

DELIBERATION ON DECISIVE ACTION IN UKRAINE-RUSSIA WAR FOR PEACEFUL RESOLUTION.

This agenda essentially requires delegates to unfold well structured and well sought out discussions surrounding the sensitive issue of the Ukraine-Russia war. This agenda would indeed, invoke the complex thinking capacity of the students and would require them to sensitively handle the various facets revolving the international tensions that arise out of a war. Students would get an opportunity to grasp knowledge, but also a better outlook into the modern patterns of war and all the complex realities surrounding war in the 21st century. Teens get an opportunity to present their views on wars, their ideas of solutions, world peace, and their general perception on the consequences of war, something that becomes essential from the viewpoint that today's youth would become the policy makers of tomorrow. The committee's agenda would sensitize students on the topic of war and its dire consequences on human life and civilisation.

COMMITTEES AND AGENDAS

The United Nations Security Council was established towards the end of the World War II to respond to international crises and maintain international peace. It dives deep into the complexities of international diplomacies as well as international peace. Its mission is to prevent conflicts, resolve crises, and, when necessary, take measures to restore peace. The structure of the UNSC is designed to reflect a balance of power among different regions and ensure that no single nation can dominate its proceedings. The Security Council can also deploy UN peacekeeping operations and impose sanctions on states.

THE AGENDA FOR THE UNEP IS:

THE CRUCIAL NEED OF A FRAMEWORK FOR CLIMATE CHANGE AND DISCUSSION ON DEVELOPED AND DEVELOPING NATIONS OBLIGATIONS AGAINST IT.

Climate change is, without doubt, one of the most contested topics of this century. We need optimal solutions to what seems to be this never-ending discussion. It is one that requires innovation and creativity, while at the same time critical analysis and deep thinking. This agenda would bring about a plethora of opinions and solutions, which would yet again expand the scope of the delegates' knowledge and thinking capacity. The committee would delve into aspects of human involvement and formulating the factors that give rise to globally disastrous environmental hurdles. It provides youngsters with a platform to actively debate and discuss renewable energy sources, sustainable production and other environmental concerns, from a socio-legal angle and pitch in ideas for innovations and changes in these arenas. The UNEP undoubtedly, unleashes creativity of its delegates when it comes to problem solving and unique solutions.

COMMITTEES AND AGENDAS

The United Nations Environment Programme at the forefront, is a committee dedicated to the goal of a sustainable and environment-friendly future. UNEP's mission is to provide leadership and encourage partnership in caring for the environment by inspiring, informing, and enabling nations and peoples to improve their quality of life without compromising that of future generations. Imagine a scenario, wherein all major countries collectively come together to discuss the current hot topics related to environment policies and environmental issues and trying to find reasonable solutions and drafting out a sustainable future for the ever-growing human population. UNEP would be the perfect embodiment of such an idea. UNEP tries to effectively address and combat the various aspects of alarmingly serious environmental problems like plastic pollution, global warming etc. Now imagine all the fresh and diverse minds of different schools in Nagpur under one roof, discussing environmentalak issues and lacunae in environmental policies. That would be the UNEP committee under the SLS MUN!

THE AGENDA FOR THE UNHRC IS:

ARMED CONFLICTS AND HUMAN RIGHTS OF REFUGEES.

It would be wrongful to assume that wars and war crimes are a thing of the past. In the 21st century, when human civilisations are supposed to have outgrown the atrocious practises of war crimes, the realities of the world prove the contrary. And as a dire consequence of such wars, people from many parts of the world have been robbed of everything and merely spared with the painful identity of “a refugee”. The open human rights violation of refugees would also, hence, require to be immediately addressed. As the heirs of this beautiful earth, we lovingly call mother, the torchbearers of humanity i.e., today’s children would most obviously have their strong and important opinions of the present wars and war crimes they’d come to hear of. The problem lies in the fact that they lack a platform where they can voice out their concerns and that these voices are heard. Therefore, this agenda of the UNHCR is a tool to help our sharp teens boost their knowledge, formulate crucial opinions and discuss it out with like minded individuals, justly as well as amicably. The students would get an opportunity to think through the line of delegates and delve into the legalities, practicalities and the realities of the issues addressed in the agenda whilst upholding principles of equality and protection of human rights.

COMMITTEES AND AGENDAS

The SLS MUN would primarily consist of three committees, namely the UNHRC, the UNEP and the UNSC.

The United Nations Human Rights Commission, abbreviated as the UNHRC is a committee that essentially deals with issues revolving basic human rights. This committee tackles agendas that raise the issues of human rights violations and delegates discuss extensively, about the various aspects of the problems, their probable solutions and the need to protect human rights. The United Nations commonly defines human rights as rights inherent to all human beings, regardless of nationality, sex, ethnic origin, colour, religion, language or any other status. The UNHRC plays a pivotal role in shaping young brains to develop more compassionate stands expand the knowledge base in regards to human rights issues through the wide spectrum debates surrounding human rights, including civil, political, economic, social, and cultural rights. The often-serious debates unfold a touch of compassion which is the highlight of this committee.

Committee Sessions

During the course of the conference, multiple committee sessions are conducted. This is where the excitement unfolds! Delegates make speeches, propose solutions, and draft resolutions to address the issues presented in the agenda. Delegates also engage in debates, ask questions, and collaborate with other countries on writing resolutions. Voting determines whether resolutions are adopted. Some committees may also include crisis situations for added excitement. The sessions are moderated by a Chair and Co-Chair of the committee. Delegates propose motions for discussion and rounds of voting take place to decide the direction of the committee session.

Rules and Procedures

MUN conferences follow specific rules of procedure, which are often based on the UN's rules and practices. These rules govern how debates are conducted, how resolutions are submitted and amended, and how voting occurs. Familiarity with these rules is essential for effective participation.

Research and Preparation

Participants are expected to conduct thorough research on their assigned country's foreign policy, the agenda to be discussed, and the specific committee's rules and procedures. This research helps delegates craft informed arguments, negotiate effectively, and contribute successfully to the goals of the committee. It is advisable for a delegate to thoroughly prepare themselves for the committee sessions to ensure a successful and engaging MUN experience.

ABOUT THE SLS-MUN

The Concept of MUNs and its committees:-

What is an MUN?

Model United Nations (MUN) is an academic simulation that imitates the procedures of the United Nations, an international organisation. It provides students with an opportunity to learn about international relations, diplomacy, and the workings of the UN.

The event is organised as a conference where students, often representing different countries, take on the roles of delegates to discuss and debate global issues, propose solutions, and draft resolutions for the same.

Role of a Delegate

Delegates convene in committees that mirror UN bodies such as the General Assembly, Security Council, and specialised agencies. These committees focus on distinct global issues such as climate change to human rights.

Each participant assumes the role of a delegate representing a particular country. Delegates are expected to research and understand the policies, positions, and interests of their assigned country on the agenda being discussed in their committee. They must then speak and act in accordance with their country's stance during committee sessions.

In conclusion, the Debate and Literary Cell at Symbiosis Law School Nagpur is a shining example of excellence in education and extracurricular activities. Its consistent organization of creative writing competitions, MUN simulations, Asian Parliamentary debates, and workshops has had a transformative impact on the students and the institution as a whole. By nurturing creativity, fostering diplomatic skills, honing debating prowess, and providing practical knowledge, the cell plays a pivotal role in preparing students for success in their academic and professional endeavors. It stands as a testament to the commitment of Symbiosis Law School Nagpur to provide a holistic and enriching educational experience.

The Asian Parliamentary debate format, another forte of the cell, is a rigorous and intellectually stimulating form of competitive debating. It demands quick thinking, persuasive speaking, and the ability to analyze complex issues from various perspectives. By organizing Asian Parliamentary debates, the cell empowers students to engage in meaningful discourse, develop their argumentative skills, and appreciate the art of rhetoric. These debates contribute significantly to the holistic development of participants, preparing them for careers in law, politics, or any field that values strong communication and analytical abilities.

Workshops organized by the Debate and Literary Cell add another layer to its excellence. These workshops cover a diverse range of topics, including public speaking, research methodology, and writing techniques. They are conducted by experts and experienced professionals who impart valuable knowledge and practical skills to the students. The workshops not only enhance academic and professional competencies but also provide a platform for networking and mentorship opportunities.

Furthermore, the cell's dedication to excellence has earned it recognition and accolades on a national level. It has consistently performed well in prestigious MUN conferences and Asian Parliamentary debate tournaments, often bringing home awards and honors. This success not only elevates the reputation of the institution but also inspires students to strive for excellence in their academic and extracurricular pursuits.

Moreover, internal MUN competitions encourage students to delve deep into research. Participants are required to thoroughly research their assigned country's stance on the given topics, understand the historical context, and analyze current policies. This research-intensive process fosters critical thinking and analytical skills, as students must be well-informed to represent their country convincingly during the debates. Additionally, internal MUN competitions help improve public speaking and communication skills. Participants must articulate their viewpoints eloquently and persuasively, often in front of a diverse audience. This experience builds confidence in public speaking and the ability to convey complex ideas clearly.

Furthermore, these competitions serve as a stepping stone for students who aspire to participate in external MUN conferences and competitions. The skills and knowledge gained from internal MUNs lay a strong foundation, making students more competitive and well-prepared when representing their school on a broader stage.

One of the standout features of the Debate and Literary Cell is its commitment to nurturing the creative talents of the students. The regular hosting of creative writing competitions serves as a testament to this commitment. These competitions provide a platform for students to showcase their literary prowess, encouraging them to explore the depths of their imagination and linguistic skills. Through these events, participants not only refine their writing abilities but also gain confidence in expressing their thoughts and emotions through words.

ABOUT THE DEBATE AND LITERARY CELL AT SLS, NAGPUR

The Debate and Literary Cell at Symbiosis Law School Nagpur, headed by Prof. Dr. Nuzhat Fatima Rizvi, is a dynamic and influential hub of intellectual and creative expression. Over the years, it has established itself as a powerhouse of talent and innovation, consistently organizing a wide array of events.

First and foremost, internal MUN competitions provide students with a platform to apply and sharpen their diplomatic, research, and negotiation skills. Participants are assigned roles as delegates representing different countries, and they engage in simulated diplomatic debates on complex global issues. This hands-on experience enables them to better understand international affairs and hone their ability to formulate persuasive arguments, negotiate effectively, and navigate the complexities of diplomacy.
