Symbiosis Law School, Nagpur conducted Peer to Peer session on 25 February 2022

As the campus life of students is past pacing to normalcy after the break of covid-19, the peer-to-peer discussion session was a welcome change for the students of Symbiosis Law School, Nagpur. With the aim to provide public speaking platforms and thickened the bond of juniors and seniors together this session was a great help. The student support Centre of Symbiosis Law School, Nagpur conducted this session on 25.02.2022 from 4 pm to 5 pm.

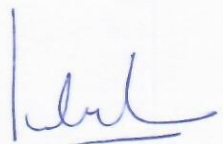

The topic titled "Different legal escapes for criminal to run away from trials" was shared with the students by mail on the previous day. Forty-six students from first and second year registered their inclination to join the discussion. They were divided in the group of three and were given time to make a discussion amongst themselves after that each team represented by one leader came forward and put forth their facet of looking into the topic and its interpretation with legal dimensions. Student Support Centre members and Seniors who have joined the session played a pivotal role in stirring their discussion and helping them to express, also they posed some very vital questions to test the confidence and helped their juniors in knowing the correct perceptions of laws. Some random students from each group were also picked up so that most of them get a chance to publicly express themselves.

The students appreciated the session and shown keen interest and made enquires for carrying it forward in each week of the month.
