ONE-DAY FACULTY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

HELD ON 16TH SEPTEMBER 2022

The Research & Publication Cell of Symbiosis Law School, Nagpur organized a One-Day FDP on 'The Art of Writing a Research Paper' on the 16th of September 2022 for the faculty members in the Conference Room of the Institute. Keeping in mind the ever-evolving domain of law, it is an arduous task for faculty members to be constantly updated with recent developments. It is the demand of academics that faculty members constantly undertake research and write research papers. However, researching and writing a research paper is an art that requires channelized guidance. Getting the research paper published in a reputable journal is also important for the professional growth of an individual. Therefore, a one-day Faculty Development Program was organized with the objective of giving hands-on training to the faculties for undertaking legal research in the form of paper writing and making research proposals. For this purpose, we invited Dr. Rupal Rautdesai, visiting faculty at Symbiosis Law School, Pune, and Adv. Namit Saxena, Advocate on Record, Supreme Court of India to address the faculty members. The FDP began with Dr. Sukhvinder Singh Dari, Director, Symbiosis Law School, Nagpur welcoming the guests.

Dr. Rupal Rautdesai dealt with the preliminary requirements to be adhered to while doing research and while writing a research paper. With her vast experience and numerous paper publications to her credit, she was able to give valuable insights into formulating a problem and constructively researching the same. From the point of view of the publication of research work, madam explained the currency that Empirical Legal Research has in contemporary times.

She shared her experience while undertaking empirical research work. She emphasized on the care to be taken while making a questionnaire.

Adv. Namit Saxena, Advocate on Record, Supreme Court of India shared his experience from practice. Being a regular contributor to reputable newspapers and having undertaken to edit various law books on the Constitution of India, Criminal Procedure Code, and Civil Procedure Code, he was able to provide valuable insights into unexplored areas of law. He also informed the faculty members of the nuances of interpretation which can be researched further in various domains of law. This was followed by an interaction between the faculty members and the resource persons.

The FDP ended with a vote of thanks proposed by Ms. Sayalee Surjuse, Faculty-in-charge of the Research and Publication cell of the institute.
