Report on Workshop on Introduction to Asian & British Parliamentary Debating Styles

27th September, 2023

The Debate & Literary Cell, a dynamic student organization committed to fostering critical thinking and communication skills, hosted the highly anticipated "Workshop on Introduction to Asian & British Parliamentary Debating Styles" on the 27th of September, 2023. The workshop featured our esteemed guest, Mr. Robin Ahuja, an accomplished debater and a recognized authority in the field of parliamentary debating.

The primary objective of the workshop was to provide participants with a comprehensive understanding of the distinctive characteristics and nuances of Asian and British parliamentary debating styles. With a growing interest in debating among students, this event aimed to equip them with the knowledge and skills needed to excel in both local and international debating arenas.

Key Highlights of the event included the Expertise of Mr. Robin Ahuja as he, a seasoned debater with a wealth of experience, served as the workshop's key resource person. His presence lent credibility and insight to the event, making it a valuable opportunity for attendees. Mr. Ahuja's background in both Asian and British parliamentary debating styles ensured that participants received a well-rounded education. Moreover, the workshop commenced with a detailed analysis of Asian and British parliamentary debating styles. Mr. Ahuja delved into the structural elements, argumentation techniques, and etiquette specific to each style. Participants gained a deeper appreciation of the nuances that set these styles apart.

One of the workshop's strengths was its interactive nature. Attendees actively engaged in discussions and debates, putting theory into practice. They appreciated the hands-on experience and the opportunity to test their skills in a supportive environment. To reinforce their learning, participants were involved in practical exercises. These exercises allowed them to work on constructing arguments, refuting opposing points, and delivering compelling speeches. Expert feedback from Mr. Ahuja and fellow participants helped attendees refine their debating techniques.

Mr. Ahuja conducted an informative and engaging question-and-answer session. Attendees seized this opportunity to seek clarification, solicit advice, and gain deeper insights into debating strategies. Mr. Ahuja's thoughtful responses were appreciated by all. Beyond the educational aspect, the workshop facilitated networking among participants. Attendees connected with like-minded individuals who shared their passion for debating. This networking opportunity has the potential to foster future collaborations and partnerships.

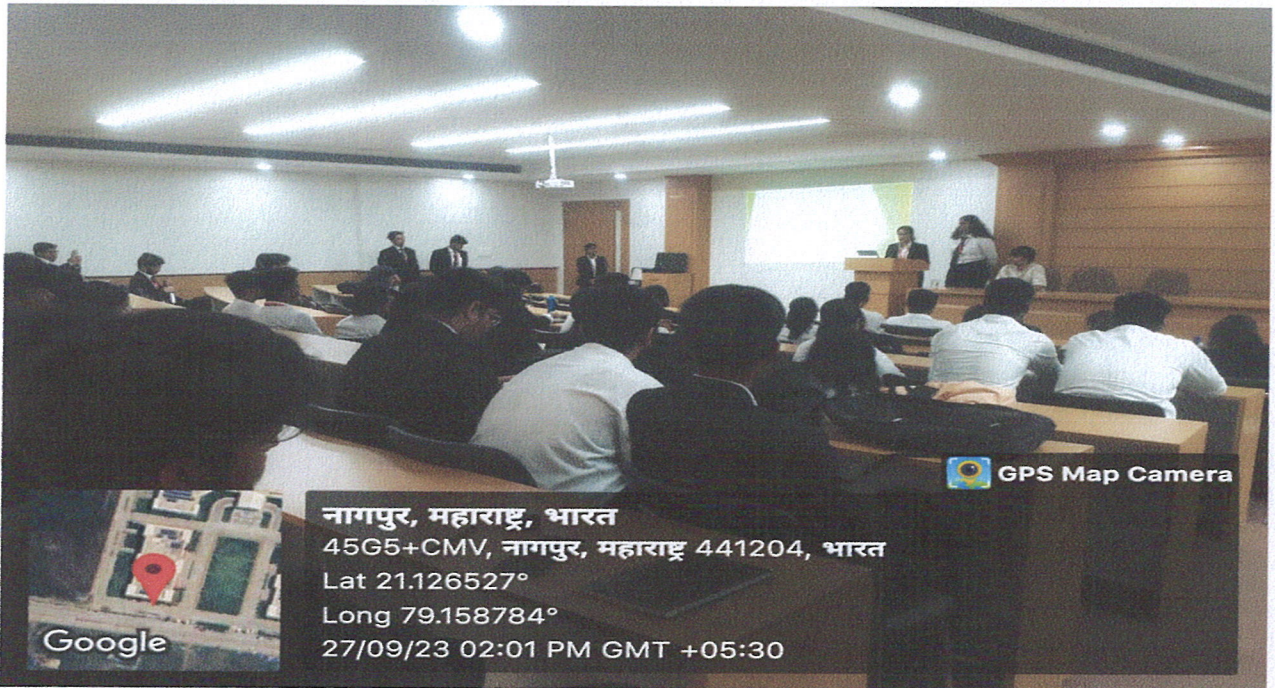

The Workshop on Introduction to Asian & British Parliamentary Debating Styles left a lasting impact on participants. They left the event with enhanced knowledge, improved skills, and newfound confidence in their debating abilities. The workshop not only met but exceeded its objectives by offering a holistic view of debating styles, interactive learning, and expert guidance.

We express our sincere gratitude to Mr. Robin Ahuja for dedicating his time and expertise to enriching the debating skills of our participants. His contributions were invaluable in making this workshop a resounding success.

In conclusion the event, orchestrated by the Debate and Literary Cell of Symbiosis Law School, Nagpur, was under the adept leadership of Dr. Nuzhat Rizvi, Faculty In charge, and the kind authorization of the most Respected, Dr. Sukhvinder Singh Dari, the acclaimed Director of Symbiosis Law School, Nagpur.

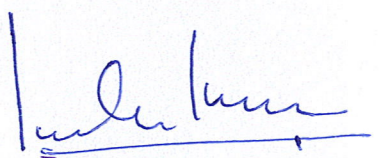

The Event's success branches out to the roots of the Student in charge, Vaibhav Vikash and Advait Nisal, and the dedicated members of the Debate and Literary Cell who put their hearts and souls to the intricacies of the event.
